YEARS OF COMPASSIONATE SERVICE

ANNUAL REPORT 2010

Continued Compassion... New Commitment

Interfaith Community Services
Our Mission: Helping seniors, disabled individuals and people in financial crisis achieve stable and independent lives through support from volunteers, faith communities and the community at large.

Continued Compassion... New Commitment

Our 25th anniversary offers a unique opportunity to look both backward and forward.

This year we have celebrated our history and founding values while concurrently preparing for our future. Today we are blessed with the support of nearly 60 faith communities and more than 600 volunteers. The original vision of “Love, Cooperation, and Service” continues to touch thousands of people each year.

Our past gives us much to be thankful for. The theme of this annual report – Continued Compassion... New Commitment – emphasizes the importance of building on our history of compassionate service while we meet head-on the challenges and opportunities we face with renewed commitment to the years ahead.

Continued Compassion

Two September 2010 headlines from the Arizona Daily Star clearly tell the story of our challenges: Arizona is No. 2 in poverty and Jobless rate for Arizona is highest in 27 years. All of us know someone touched by the economic recession. More than any time in our history, the importance of ICS’s role in Tucson and Pima County really hits home.

Thanks to you and many other ICS supporters, we were able to provide record levels of compassionate services last fiscal year to individuals and families needing a wide range of help.

Here are some highlights of that level of assistance:
• 45,717 services provided to 20,034 individuals, an 18% increase over FY 2009;
• $624,725 in financial assistance provided, a 19% increase;
• $650,098 worth of food distributed, 25% over FY 2009.

What a blessing that ICS was there!

New Commitment

While our core programs remain the same, we will be expanding our services for people in need. For a start, we will provide training for job readiness and financial literacy, and offer an expanded health advocacy outreach to assist faith leaders in helping their own congregants. The ICS Endowment, which already has topped $2 million in gifts and pledges, will remain an important component in developing the future sustainability of our services.

New plans for 2011 and 2012 include the expansion of the ICS Food Bank, moving from the current 400-square-foot cramped facility to a separate building of about 2,700 square feet. This effort has recently received a wonderful boost from The Wolslager Foundation, which has approved a $150,000 challenge grant towards this project. For more details, see the back page of this report.

ICS is making a commitment to help more people as more resources – both financial and volunteers – are developed. And because of donors and volunteers, we are hopeful and excited about the future. Our deepest thanks to all of you. We cannot do this alone. We need your help for the years to come.

FROM THE TREASURER

Despite another year of difficult economic times, ICS ended its fiscal year as of June 30th with positive financial results. While the nation’s economic downturn has reduced revenues and curtailed operating expenditures across many nonprofits, ICS continues to carefully monitor expenses and increase efforts to generate cash and in-kind donations.

The amount of funds for operational services provided was up by 14% over last year, and as you will see from the program statistics presented in this report, we provided assistance to 18% more people! In managing for operating efficiencies and cost effectiveness, ICS’s administrative and fundraising costs came to 16%, well below the national average for nonprofits. This means that 84 cents of every resource dollar goes directly to provide services throughout the year to those in need.

The accompanying charts provide a visual comparative of where ICS resources came from, how they were used, and measures of administrative and fundraising costs.

Resource income increased by 11% and surpassed the prior year’s record setting best. The increases in resource income were critical in helping fund the growing need for emergency financial assistance and food that accounted for 60% of our total services to the community.

“Assistance Thru Casework” reflects the many low- or fixed-income households that obtained cost relief through ICS in utilities and rent expense paid directly by a government entity or utility company.

Requests for services to seniors, the disabled, and people in financial crisis continue to increase. We welcome your sponsorship, contributions, and voluntary effort to help clients achieve stable and independent lives.

Audited financial statements are available through our website and I would be most pleased to meet with you to discuss our financial results.

ICS has come a long way since 1985, when six congregations banded together under the leadership of Rev. Barbara Anderson, then associate pastor at St. Andrew’s Presbyterian Church, to open Northwest Interfaith Center (NWIC). Here is a brief history:

1979: TeleCare program started as an ecumenical program serving shut-ins. St. Andrew’s Presbyterian Church served as the host.

1985: NWIC founded as the umbrella for a Food Bank, TeleCare, Volunteer Caregiving (VICaP), and Good Samaritan emergency assistance. The first delivery of Mobile Meals was made in 1986. The office was located at St. Andrew’s with a Directors Committee managing the day-to-day operations.

1995: NWIC’s support had grown to 14 member faith communities and 224 volunteers.

2001: The organization moved to its current office on the property of Christ the King Episcopal Church.

2002: Executive Director position was filled by Bonnie Kampa.

2003: The Health Advocacy program was launched, providing home visits to assess elderly and disabled clients’ health and safety issues, resource referrals and assistance in obtaining services.

2005: NWIC became Interfaith Community Services to better reflect its growing service area and 35 member faith communities. Its volunteer base had grown to 500.

2006: ICS was recognized by the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona with the Achievement Award for Innovation. It opened an East Side office at New Spirit Lutheran and started a Capital Campaign to expand its main office space.

2007: ICS was recognized with two awards for outstanding volunteer management. Its Volunteer Coordinator was designated volunteer manager of the year by Volunteer Center of Southern Arizona, and the MetLife Foundation gave ICS its Older Volunteers Enrich America Program Award.

2008: ICS opened its expanded space, which nearly doubled the main office. Its support grew to 45 member faith communities, 14 full-time-equivalent employees and 600 volunteers.

2009: ICS became a northwest site for the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program (VITA), serving low- to moderate-income taxpayers.

2010: ICS’s services continue to grow, with a new Resource Center offering employment assistance. As ICS turned 25 years old, it announced the creation of the ICS Endowment with the Jenkins challenge to secure its financial future.

As of September, there were 56 member congregations. Our official 25th anniversary celebration was held 10-10-10 with a sold-out concert featuring the moving music of R. Carlos Nakai, renowned flutist, and Gabriel Ayala, classical guitarist.

About the ICS Endowment

The ICS Endowment began with a $1 million gift and matching challenge from ICS volunteer and board president Ed Jenkins and his wife, Kay. They decided to establish an endowment in order to create a permanent fund that will provide an annual source of future income for ICS. They challenged others to give.

We are very grateful to everyone who has contributed to this fund. Combined gifts of cash, pledges and quantifiable and verifiable planned gifts total over $2 million towards our goal to raise $2.5 million during 2010. Thanks to the Jenkinses, cash donations to the Endowment will be matched dollar for dollar as long as the matching funds are available. In addition, certain planned gifts may also be matched. Your gift can grow!
OUR heartfelt "thank you" to our many contributors during the fiscal year of July 2009 through June 2010. This list includes grants, corporate gifts and individual donors, as well as support for our Endowment Fund and special events. The wonderful support of the community has resulted in a 14% overall increase in the funds for operational services this year. If your name is missing or listed incorrectly, we apologize. Please call us with the correction.

Bringing faith and health together

ICS Health Advocacy staff and volunteers assess elderly and disabled recipients’ health and safety needs, refer them to community resources and help them navigate the health system. They also help congregations build health programs in the context of their faith and conduct workshops like the one above at Mt. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church on caring for those with Alzheimer’s.
Volunteers: the heart of ICS

ICS volunteers with the Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) program, above, helped families get $278,117 in federal income tax refunds last fiscal year. Longtime ICS volunteer Jessie Deyoe, right, received a “Ben’s Bell” in recognition of her service to the Tucson community.

ICS Launches Drive To Expand Its Food Bank

Hunger in Tucson. You don’t need to be an economist to know that these are hard times for a lot of families in our community. All you need to do is visit the ICS Food Bank. A few years ago, we were providing food boxes to a couple of dozen families a day. But those days are long gone.

Food Bank expansion project. It has become clear that our Food Bank space, with only 400 square feet of indoor space and 200 square feet of outdoor storage shed space, is grossly inadequate for the storage and traffic demands. The ICS leadership has set a goal to build a new space of up to 2,700 square feet next to our current facility on Ina Road. The new space would provide better client services, a greater variety of fresh and frozen food, areas for packing and storage, walk-in refrigeration and freezer space, and space for nutritional and other educational services for the recipients.

Financing the project. The Wolslager Foundation has recently approved a challenge grant of $150,000 towards this project. Our challenge is to raise the rest of the funding - $200,000 – by August 2011! We are already moving forward with the planning and design work, and with our campaign to raise the required funding. Projected completion time is Spring 2012.

For additional information on our progress in this project, and how you can help, please contact the ICS office. Your support will help us serve people with the most basic need – food.

THANK YOU!
